HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Must Answer to Charge of House
Burning—Olympia Club's Outing.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch,
No. 1102 Hull Street.

A marriage, which will be something of a surprise to their friends, took place at 8:30 o'clock last night, when Mr. Thomas E. Crouch and Miss Nannie Alley were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Arthur B. Sharpe.

The ceremony took place in the parsonage of the Fifth Street Methodist Church in the presence of only a few witnesses. It was a quiet affair, and, indeed, was hardly known until the ceremony was over. Mr. and Mrs. Crouch left for their new home immediately after the ceremony, and in a few days will start on an extended trip North.

The case of Arthur Smith, charged with wife desertion, was up in the Mayor's Court again yesterday morning.

In spite of the bitter fighting by Mr. and Mrs. Blake in behalf of their client in an effort to take the case out of the Mayor's jurisdiction, Smith was held for the grand jury and bailed in the sum of $500.

Messrs. Ryan and Smith contended that the case was beyond the scope of the Mayor's authority and that he had no jurisdiction in the matter. Messrs. Page and Gregory, on the other hand, held that the Mayor had full authority to hold Smith for the grand jury.

FOR HOUSE BURNING.

MR. JONES RETURNS FROM FOREIGN TRIP

He Will Write a Series of Magazine Articles Giving His Observations and Impressions.

Rev. Plummer F. Jones, of Buckingham county, Va., was in the city yesterday on his way home from a two-months' tour abroad. He was accorded a warm welcome back to his native land after a delightful trip through England, Ireland, Scotland and France, where he was engaged in gathering materials for literary work which he has in contemplation.

Mr. Jones was formerly on the staff of the Richmond Dispatch, and made a brilliant reputation as a newspaper writer. He relinquished active journalistic work to take the theological course at the Union Seminary. After graduation he was called to the pastorate of churches in his native county, and has labored there ever since.

During the activities of his vocation, Mr. Jones has found time to contribute some charming bits of verse and some more pretentious prose to several of the magazines. While in Europe on his recent tour he wrote for The Times-Dispatch a series of articles descriptive of his travels and chronicling his impressions of men and affairs in the lands he visited.

Mr. Jones has already contracted to write an article of some length for Public Opinion, a periodical of high standard, and he is being urged by several other magazines to contribute articles. The Harpers have asked Mr. Jones to contribute several intelligent observations, and his active mind receptive to impressions, and with his fresh, vigorous style and his enthusiastic appreciation, his friends are confident that his forthcoming work will attract wide attention and evoke most favorable comment.

SENATOR TELEGRAPHED IT

Meeting Held Last Night and Mr. Martin to Be Entertained To-morrow Night.

Captain W. M. Myers and the members of the Richmond Howitzers battery are very enthusiastic over the receipt yesterday at 12:47 P. M. of the following telegram from Senator Martin:

"Washington, D. C., July 25, 1905. 'Captain W. M. Myers, Richmond, Va.: 'In accordance with the request of yourself and the committee acting with you, I to-day called again at the war department in the matter of the application of your company for a battery of new guns, authorized by law and now being constructed.

"I am glad that the guns will not be delivered for four or five months, but the secretary authorizes me to assure you, unconditionally, that the Richmond Howitzers will be included in the first allotment made, and that no company will be supplied sooner than yours.

"THOMAS S. MARTIN, 'United States Senate.'

This battery is essentially modern, and is one of those to be distributed by the United States War Department to efficient State organizations. Regular army field batteries will be supplied later.

The total equipment, which consists of new caissons, wagons, and four three-inch guns, fills a great want at the armory, as much of the battery's present paraphernalia is of ante-bellum manufacture. The government's expenditure for the equipment is about $55,000.

A special meeting of the Howitzers was held last night, at which Senator Martin's telegram was read by Captain Myers. Lusty cheers broke from the men, who, with the exception of the two sent to the senator for his energy and zeal in securing for them such a coveted possession as the battery.

To-morrow night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, there will be good times for the men, who will be entertained by a band in honor of Senator Martin; and with music, edibles, drinkables, smokeables, and informal addresses, no sane individual could complain of a dearth of enjoyment.

YOUNG LOVERS ELOPE.

Miss Annie Smith and Mr. Henry Spear Leave for Warrenton.

The couple are to be married next Sunday, the 30th. Mr. Spear, Sr. now over, objected to the match, on the ground of the extreme youth of the parties, concluding that Miss Smith being only eighteen.

BUSINESS WOMEN.

A Lunch Fit for a King.

An active and successful young lady tells her food experience:

"Some three years ago I suffered from nervous prostration, induced by continuous brain strain and improper food, added to a great grief.

"I was ordered to give up my work, as there was great danger of my mind failing me altogether. My stomach was in bad condition (nervous dyspepsia, I think now), and when Grape-Nuts food was recommended to me I had no faith in it. However, I tried it and soon found a marked improvement in my condition as the result. I had been troubled with deathly faint spells, and had been compelled to use a stimulant to revive me. I found, however, that by eating Grape-Nuts at such times I was relieved as satisfactorily as by the use of stimulants, and suffered no bad after-effects, such as a great gain in appetite, and other troubles—nervous prostration, dyspepsia, etc.—the Grape-Nuts diet soon cured them.

"I wish especially to call the attention of office girls to the great benefit I derived from the use of Grape-Nuts as a noon luncheon. I was thoroughly tired of heavy restaurants and ordinary lunches, and so made the experiment of taking a package of Grape-Nuts food with me, and then slipping out at noon and getting a nickel's worth of sweet cream to add to it. I found that this simple dish, dressed up with an apple, peach or orange in a bunch of grapes, made a lunch fit for a king, and one that agreed with me perfectly.

"I throw so on my Grape-Nuts diet that I did not have to give up my work at all, and in the two years have had only four lost days to my other troubles. I now add that your suggestions in the little book, 'Road to Wellville,' are, in my opinion, invaluable, especially to women." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"The Road to Wellville" in each pkg.

POLICEMEN AGAIN
FACE THE TARGETS

Second District Officers Again Excel the First Corps in Marksmanship.

As a whole, better scores were made by the police officers at the target practice yesterday afternoon than have been made on any day in the past. Each officer showed an improvement over his former shooting.

"Dan" T. Tucker, of the First District, carried off the individual honors, with a score of 21. There were several who made nineteen, but none of them could reach Mr. Tucker. He scored a bull's eye and several fours.

The Second District won again, defeating the down-town officers by twenty-two points, after cancelling the scores made by Captain Hulce and Sergeant Thier and Holdcroft, of the up-town district. These officers shot in the practice Monday, and were not entitled to count in the general score of the district yesterday. Captain Whitlock was not present at the target practice, though he was at the armory a few minutes before the practice began.

For the reason that the scores of the officers of the Second District were not counted in the Second District total.

Yesterday's shoot was the last one until the first week in August. In future the men will have practice only twice a month.

From headquarters the following officers made scores: Chief Werner, 4; Inspector Epps, 4; Captain Womblston, 2; Detective McMahon, 10; Sergeant Talley, 2; Officer Robbins, 3; Sergeant Oley, 5; First District—Sergeant Ballo, 12; Privates Green, 12; Crump, 9; Jones, 18; N. W. Ballo, 2; Zimmer, 9; Dykes, 10; Bolton, 11; Atkinson, 3; Johnson, 12; "Toll" Sherry, 18; Fowkes, 10; Duggins, 13; Gary, 8; Tucker, 21; Kraft, 14. Total, 171.

Second District—Sergeant Sewell, 13; Privates, Nelson, 18; Joe Hulcher, 13; Mattern, 18; Barker, 9; Marlon, 6; L. H. Hulcher, 9; Nickels, 3; Newman, 14; Pillow, 9; Clarkson, 18; Walton, 4; Wiley, 15; Howie, 11; Schleif, 10; Sale, 3. Total, 192.

Captain Hulce made eighteen points, Sergeant Thier nine and Sergeant Holdcroft five. These were not added to the total score of the Second District.

ANNEXATION TO-NIGHT.

Committee on Ordinances to Hold a Special Session.

The Committee on Ordinances will meet to-night for the purpose of considering the Cannon-Pollock plan of annexation, and a great fight is expected.

Mr. Cannon is a member of the committee, and will lead for his ordinance, while Mr. Pollock will be on hand to render all possible assistance.

Mr. Morgan J. Mills, the patron of the ordinance now pending before the Council under the Mayor's veto, will likely be on hand, and he may oppose the Cannon-Pollock plan.

It is not improbable that a good many of the people present at the meeting, and contend for the plan offered jointly by Messrs. Cannon and Pollock.

Mr. Yowell's Condition Improved.

Mr. James V. Yowell, No. 726 West Marshall Street, who Saturday night stepped out of a car, and fell from the rear of a freight train, falling twelve feet and severely straining his spine and cutting his right arm, is now resting comfortably at the Providence Hospital, in Washington. TEST OF DONLEAVY
ORDINANCE HAD

Trolley Company Fined By Police Justice, But Case Was Appealed.

A CONFLICT OF TESTIMONY

Justice Crutchfield Has to Sit As Solomon in Dispute Over a Child—Fined Both.

"Judicial murder was committed when Cluverius was hanged. The evidence was not sufficient to convict him of the crime of which he was charged," exclaimed Captain A. B. Guilgon, attorney for the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, in the Police Court yesterday, in answer to an argument made by City Attorney Pollard that Cluverius was convicted because the jury believed that if he misrepresented facts in part he did it in whole.

It was during the trial of the Passenger and Power Company upon a charge of violating the Donleavy ordinance by running passenger cars at Laurel and Main and at Beach and Main Streets, that the assertion bearing upon the famous Lillian Madison case was made by Mr. Guilgon.

Mr. Pollard, in arguing the case against the company for the city, referred to the evidence of Conductor Meeks as being evidence which gave him the right to presume that it was a mistake in whole, "It is a well known rule of law that a witness who misrepresents in part is believed to misrepresent in whole. Your Honor knows that it was upon such evidence as this that Cluverius was convicted. He had misrepresented things in part, and the jury did not believe any of his testimony," declared Mr. Pollard.

The discrepancy in the conductor's testimony was that there were between thirty and one hundred passengers on his car when it passed Laurel and Main Streets, when as a matter of fact the register showed only seventy-two fares for the round trip.

Captain Guilgon did not mince words in his reply to the argument of the City Attorney, and at the office he quoted the evidence given by the conductor, Mr. Pollard's reference to the Cluverius case.

Officer "Pop" Tate made the charge against the company for leaving passengers at Laurel and Main and Beach and Main Streets. The patrolman testified that car No. 54 of the Main Street line passed Laurel Street at 7:30 o'clock. He was standing on the west side of the crossing. The car, he testified, stopped on the east side and let off passengers, but that on crossing the street, the motor man did not stop, but yelled out to those standing there to "Take her next car."

Officer Tate was not sure about the number of passengers on the car. He thought there were about thirty.

Mr. Donleavy a Witness.

Councilman Donleavy, father of the ordinance requiring all street cars to stop for passengers unless passengers were asked to get on, testified that he was not on duty at the time the car was stopped on the east side of the crossing. He was positive that no car following this one was in sight at the time.

Mr. Moore gave about the same testimony as Councilman Donleavy.

Mr. Charlie Gorman was called by the City Attorney. He couldn't remember what time of night or day it was when the car was at the crossing; hadn't any idea of the time of day. "Stand aside then, I want no witness who can't give any estimate of the time," said Mr. Pollard.

This Appeal a Peach.

Mortimer Appel who was in charge of the car that Officer Tate refused to stop, took the stand and gave a positive statement that the car was crowded to its capacity.

When he stopped at Belvidere Street to allow the conductor to flag the crossing, he looked back into the car, and knew that every seat was filled, and that passengers were on both platforms. At Laurel and Main Streets and Beach and Main Streets the car was still crowded.

Mr. Appel made an excellent witness, and gave his testimony in a straightforward manner.

Conductor Meeks did not show up so well for the company. He said that there might have been twenty-five or fifty passengers on the car that he did not collect fares from. But he was confident that the car was crowded so crowded that he could not reach the rear platform at either of the crossings.

The motor man, a conductor of the car following No. 54 said that they were within half a block of the car, and that they knew it was crowded.

Mr. Brittle, not connected with the company in any way, boarded the car at Laurel and Main Streets and could not get a seat, but had to hang out on the front platform, so he testified.

In no case before Justice Crutchfield for months was there so much conflict of evidence.

The Company Appeals.

In fining the company $5 for violating the ordinance, the court said that he did it upon the statement that the register showed only seventy-two fares for the round trip, and that the car could not have been crowded to the time.

Captain Guilgon noted an appeal, and in doing so said that he would carry the case to the highest courts and before a jury.

ELIXIR BABEK

The Summer Remedy Cures Malaria

A well known physician testifies: Washington, D. C., May 19, 1900.

It is with pleasure that I speak of the benefit I received from the use of "Babeek." After three years of constant treatment with the best known remedies for malaria, I was induced to try "Babeek," by first taking a dose of calomel the effect upon the disease was most marked after using the first bottle; the second, however, brought permanent and lasting relief. Four years have passed, and I have not had a return of the symptoms. I am able to report equally as good results in the cases of two members of my family. THOMAS J. JONES, Ph.D., D.D.S.

Malaria makes you weak. Babeek makes you strong. 50c. per bottle. At all druggists. Beware of something as good.
